

TOWN OF SUFFOLK.

Prominent Citizen Dying From an Overdose of Laudanum.

Mr. W. J. Cahoon, suffering from insomnia, took the drug to make him sleep. Had Man Arrested—Isle of Wight Politics—Approaching Marriage.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)
Suffolk, Va., Oct. 1.—Mr. William John Cahoon, one of the oldest and best-known men in Suffolk, is dying from an overdose of laudanum which he took to make him get to sleep early.

Mr. Cahoon this afternoon sought a well-known citizen and made an engagement to go fishing soon to-morrow morning. Being troubled with insomnia at times Mr. Cahoon went to Dr. Eley's drug store and bought 10 cents worth of the drug.

Then he went to G. S. P. Holland's and bought some cigars, one of which he lighted and started home.

THE ENDLESS SLEEP.
Dealing to sleep early that he might be able to awake in time to keep the engagement, Mr. Cahoon swallowed some of the sleep-producer and got too much. He never awoke. When he was found sleeping peacefully it was suspected that an overdose of an opiate had been taken, and Dr. W. W. Murray was summoned.

The physician, after an examination, discovered the cause of the deep sleep, and strenuous efforts were made to arouse him. It was too late. The sleeper is now lying quietly at his home, on Main street, still breathing, but with no chance of recovery, the doctor says.

LIVED A HAPPY LIFE.
The report was circulated to-night that the act was voluntary on Mr. Cahoon's part, but there are several facts which weaken that theory. One is that Mr. Cahoon had sought the engagement to go fishing and had not merely acquiesced. Another is that he had lived long and happily and no motive for self-destruction can be given. He had no domestic or financial troubles, no thought of carrying care, no enemy so far as is known. He had a most lovable wife and four sons, who were affectionate and who are all doing well.

THE BEREAVED ONES.
Mr. Cahoon will leave a wife, who was Miss Sallie E. Beaman, four sons—William E., who travels for a New York shoe house; Claude C., head salesman for M. Jones & Son; Paul T., Suffolk agent for the Southern Railway; and Richard, who is in the Norfolk Bank of Commerce; a niece, Mrs. Campbell, of Jackson, Miss; a nephew, Thomas Cahoon, of Montgomery, Ala. Mr. Cahoon was 71 years old.

Mr. Cahoon was born in Nansemond county, but moved to Suffolk when 9 years old. He has been connected with various enterprises. He was a Confederate veteran.

THREATENED A WOMAN'S LIFE.
Sergeant Ed. Howell and Assistant Sergeant Ben Council, of Holland, today arrested a man who is said to be a had one. He was William McGathin, colored, who is accused of threatening the life of Jane Lee. McGathin, it is said, was arrested last week on another charge.

ISLE OF WIGHT POLITICS.
Two Congressional aspirants from this district talked politics at Isle of Wight Court House to-day. Hon. Harry L. Maynard, nominee for Congress, and Colonel R. E. Boykin, former State Senator, addressed the Democrats; and Congressman Richard A. Wise and Jordan Thompson, colored, spoke for the Republicans. There was a considerable crowd at court.

INVITED TO CELEBRATE.
The Tom Smith Camp of Confederate Veterans have been invited by Southampton comrades to join in their celebrations at Delaware Park next Thursday. There will be a big reunion. All the Suffolk and Nansemond vets will be welcomed. Railroad fares have been cut to 75 cents for the round trip.

COMING MARRIAGE.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henry Nurney to-day issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Meredith, to Dr. Edward Roland Hart, of Tarboro, N. C. The ceremony will be performed Wednesday evening, October 10, at the Suffolk Presbyterian Church, and will be performed by the pastor, Rev. John Stanley Thomas.

Miss Nurney is a well-known young woman. She is an artist of some reputation.

A STRONG PLAY.
One of the strongest attractions of the season coming to the City Hall Theatre is that of Mr. Robert Downing and company, who will appear October 5th. "The Gladiator" has been selected from Mr. Downing's repertoire in which to display the wonderful power in stage realism of America's greatest tragedian.

PERSONAL.
Mrs. R. R. Moore and children have moved from 1100 Broadway Spring, Md., where they passed the summer.

The Phoenix Fire Company had a business meeting to-night.

Lucian D. Pruden left to-night to resume his studies in the Maryland College of Pharmacy at Baltimore.

Charles Annie E. White, of Norfolk, today opened a private school at the home of Hurricane Branch.

Jim Copeland, colored, charged with assault, was to-day held without bail for the November grand jury.

"A Great Blessing," Says Mr. J. S. Cook.
Mr. John S. Cook, of Atlanta, Ga., a great sufferer from dyspepsia and indigestion, writes:

"I have been suffering with dyspepsia for many years. I began taking 'Toner's Dyspepsia Remedy' and gained fifteen pounds in thirty days. It is a great blessing. I can eat and sleep like a baby—something I could not do before. JOHN S. COOK."

L. Watson; Secretary, J. Collin Neal; Board of Directors, J. H. Maclin, J. H. Gray, David Dunlop, Jr., and J. J. Percival; Time-keeper of Loose Sales, James H. Gray. The report of the secretary was read, which showed the association to be in a fine condition.

NEWPORT NEWS.

C. & O'S COAL TRADE IN NEW ENGLAND.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 1.—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway recently secured the entire stock of the Coastwise Steamship Company and now controls it outright. The Coastwise Company is engaged in shipping coal from Newport News to New England ports. It owns three ocean tugs, 15 large coal barges and charters three ocean steamers. It is doing probably a larger coal business than any other coastwise shipping company.

It was announced Saturday that beginning on Monday the price of Pocahontas steam coal will be advanced one cent a ton, due to the heavy demand for steam coal caused by the Pennsylvania strike. As far as known the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, operating here, will not increase the price of its New River steam coal, for which there is a heavier demand now than ever before.

CAPE CHARLES.

THE TOWN CARRIED FOR LIQUOR LICENSE.

Cape Charles, Va., Sept. 23.—The local option election in Cape Charles to-day resulted in a victory for the wets by a majority of 34, with 17 tickets thrown out, which would have made a net majority of 20.

The best of feeling existed between the contestants, and had it not been for the darkest vote the town would have gone largely in favor of local option. This one question of the negroes holding the balance of power in communities like Cape Charles is among one of the strongest arguments in favor of an educational or some other qualification governing their franchise.

EMPORIA.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)
Emporia, Va., Oct. 1.—The net proceeds of the military bazaar amounted to $600. At an early date the armory building will be begun, much to the delight of the citizens and the company.

Jealous Negro Woman Inflicts Mortal Injuries on Her Rival.

The Injured Woman Has Been Unconscious for 36 Hours and Is Expected to Die—A Pony Runs Amuck—Infant Buried—Brief Mention.

As a result of Rebecca Gregory and Minerva Haynes, both colored, getting into a dispute, which led to a bloody encounter, the former lies at her home, corner of Mahone avenue and Second street, unconscious and expected to die. The two women happened at the merry-go-round, at Thirteenth and Liberty streets, Saturday night about 11 o'clock. The Haynes woman found her lover lingering about this "go-round" machine with the Gregory woman. This led to a war of words and then a pile of bricks near by aided the answer to her rival. The Gregory woman was sent to her home and attended by a physician, but has not spoken since, and her condition when last heard from yesterday was critical. The Haynes woman was arrested and lodged at the station-house. She was given a hearing before Mayor Keeling yesterday morning and committed for ten days to await developments of the case. She will probably have to answer the charge, Frank Winston, colored, who is well-known about the station-house, is the man in the case.

PONY RUNS AMUCK.

A pony attached to an English cart belonging to Mr. C. R. Robertson, a butcher of Portsmouth, became frightened by a herd of cattle at the Union Belt Line Stock Yards yesterday morning and ran away while the owner was over purchasing stock. At the corner of the old Hodges road and Liberty street, where a sudden turn was necessary, both the pony and cart landed in the ditch on the outside side of the road. The pony was cut out of the harness by a colored man who was near and taken back to the yards. All of the top of the cart was torn away when it fell in the ditch, making necessary considerable repairs before being fit for use again.

THE CIRCUS AT WASHINGTON.

The Great Wallace Shows, which exhibit in Norfolk next Monday, recently visited Washington, D. C. The Post, of that city, said:

"If there is any city which is a better show town than the National Capital, it is not down on the map. The Wallace Show pleased two big throngs yesterday, many people being turned away. The circus was a success, both for the management and for those who wanted good entertainment. The city was turned over almost entirely to the big attraction. The program commenced promptly and in earnest from the start. No one but the child, whose first visit it was to a circus, could possibly tell all that was down. Hardly anything could have been more wonderful than the acrobatic feats performed by the justly celebrated Nelson family, and especially of the 5-year-old tot."

The Great Wallace Shows will exhibit in Norfolk on Monday, October 8.
